

Peter Holder

Short biography

Peter Holder is Sub-Organist of St Paul's Cathedral, where he accompanies the Cathedral Choir in the daily services, and at concerts and events of national significance. Peter is also an Organ Tutor at the Junior Royal Academy of Music, and previously undertook undergraduate and postgraduate studies at the Royal Academy of Music, gaining numerous scholarships and awards, most notably HRH Princess Alice the Duchess of Gloucester's Prize for exemplary studentship at graduation in 2013.

Peter has previously held posts at Westminster Abbey, St Albans Cathedral and Southwell Minster. He has broadcast for BBC radio and television on many occasions, and maintains a full and varied schedule as a solo recitalist, orchestral organist and continuo player, in addition to fulfilling his duties at St Paul's.
